RESEARCH

Out Boulder County relies on data to inform our programs, priorities, and advocacy. We conduct research to better understand our community as well as to drive our advocacy efforts.

WHAT THIS PROGRAM HAS TO OFFER:

WHY

The LGBTQ+ communities we serve are often left out of research. Without data, disparities are ignored. In response to this, we contribute to filling this data gap by conducting research, sharing our findings, and advocating for broader inclusion of LGBTQ+ communities in research.

Our research brings attention to LGBTQ+ experiences and inequities to inform our work as a community organization, as well as to inspire wider action locally and nationally.
